COLORADO BASKETBALL HISTORY

A University of Colorado basketball team, known only as the "Silver and Gold," defeated State Prep School 34-10 on Jan. 10, 1902, in the school's first-ever basketball contest. That game marked the beginning of what was to become an outstanding tradition of basketball at CU.

Although there have been many changes over the years from that first victory 105 years ago. In fact through 103 seasons of intercollegiate basketball action, Colorado has posted an all-time record of 1,085-1,035.

The men in Silver and Gold became known as the Buffaloes in 1934, after CU students rented a buffalo calf for the final football game that year. Colorado has been a member of five conferences, joining the Rocky Mountain Conference in 1909, and then the Mountain States in 1937. The Buffs became a member of the Big Seven Conference in 1947, which became the Big Eight in 1958, and now are a member of the Big 12 Conference as teams from the Big Eight and Southwest Conferences merged in the 1996-97 season. Another major change in Colorado basketball came in 1979, when the team moved into the Colorado Events/Conference Center with its spacious seating capacity of 11,076. The facility was renamed the Coors Events/ Conference Center in 1990, in honor of a donation made by Coors to the campus.

Many names and faces have helped make Colorado basketball special. There have been those, however, whose contributions stand out. Including current head coach Ricardo Patton, a total of 16 coaches have guided the Buffs to victory, but none more so than past leaders Forrest B. "Frosty" Cox, H.B. Lee, Russell "Sox" Walseth, and Ricardo Patton.

Cox guided CU to 147 wins in 13 seasons between 1936-50, recording only 89 losses. His 1937-38 team reached the championship game of the National Invitation Tournament before falling to Temple. While at the helm, four of Cox's teams won MSC titles and he concluded his Colorado career with the best won-lost percentage (.623) of any CU coach of more than one season.

Some of Colorado basketball's finest moments were orchestrated by head coach H.B. Lee. Lee took control of the CU squad in 1950, and in four short seasons (1953-54) he guided the Buffs to their first NCAA Tournament appearance in eight years. The following year (1954-55), Colorado made its only trip to the Final Four. From 1957-76, Colorado basketball was under the direction of "Sox" Walseth. His 261 wins are the most by any coach in CU basketball history. Walseth led the Buffs to back-to-back Big Eight Conference titles in 1961-62 and 1962-63, and both teams reached the NCAA second round before being eliminated by Cincinnati. Colorado now plays on the "Sox Walseth Floor" in the Coors Events/Conference Center, a tribute to Walseth's success as a Buff.

Coaches are not solely responsible for the success of each season, and the Buffs have had a wealth of outstanding talent on the hardwood in its proud past. Outstanding Buff performers range from Jack Harvey, CU's first All-American, to standout Chauncey Billups, who led CU to its first NCAA tournament appearance since 1969 and was drafted third overall in the first round of the 1997 NBA Draft by the Boston Celtics. Other notable Buff hoopsters include Burdette Haldorson, who led CU to consecutive Big Seven titles in 1953-54 and 1954-55, Cliff Meely, Scott Wedman and Jay Humphries.

The "Big Burd," as Haldorson was called, won the league scoring race in both championship seasons, netting 21.3 and 23.9 points per game, respectively. After Colorado finished third in the 1955 NCAA Tournament, Haldorson was selected to the AAU All-America team. His 13.8 rebounds per game that year is still a CU single season record. He also owns the record for most rebounds in a game, as he pulled down 31 in a 1952 effort against Oklahoma.

Meely became another familiar name to Colorado fans and opponents from 1968 to 1971. The sensational center-forward is CU's second all-time rebounder (971 boards, 12.1 avg.). In addition, Meely held a number of Big Eight scoring marks when his collegiate career ended in 1971. He was named an All-American for his performance during his senior campaign in which he pumped in an average of 28.0 points and hauled in 11.9 rebounds per game. A 7-point, 25-rebound outing against Oklahoma was one highlight of that milestone season. That 1971 season capped a highly successful college career for Meely, as he had led the Buffs to the conference title in 1968-69. Meely's No. 20 and Haldorson's No. 22 are the only numbers retired in CU basketball history.

The next Buff to make it big was Wedman, a sharpshooting forward for Colorado from 1971-74. Wedman came to CU from Denver's Mullen High School and led the team in scoring and rebounding for two years, field goal percentage three years, and free throw percentage one year. Before leaving Colorado, Wedman was firmly established in the Colorado record books. His numbers placed him seventh in career scoring, sixth in rebounding, and he was the eighth-leading field goal shooter in CU history at that time. After enjoying a successful 12-year stint in the NBA, Wedman concluded his professional career in 1987 with the Boston Celtics.

Arguably the best and most exciting Buff of the '80s was 6-3 guard Jay Humphries. Humphries played at CU from 1981-84. While running the offense, Humphries became the school's all-time assist leader (562) and then-eighth-leading scorer (1,306 points, 11.7 avg.). His specialty, however, was defensive play. He finished as the Buffs' all-time leader in steals with 309 for a 2.8 average per game, and led the nation in hefts during the 1982-83 season with 115.

Colorado closed out the 1980s and began a new decade of Buffalo basketball with two greats, Shaun Vandiver and Stevie Wise. Both Vandiver and Wise were instrumental in Colorado's run through the 1991 National Invitation Tournament, CU's first post-season appearance since making the NCAA Tourney in 1969. And before it was over, Colorado had played to a standing room only crowd in the Coors Events Center, cut down the nets there after defeating Arkansas State to advance to the NIT's Final Four in New York City, and eventually finished third in the tournament.

Vandiver, a 6-10 center who transferred to CU in 1988 after leading Hutchinson CC to the junior college national championship, worked his way up the Buff charts with an excellent shooting touch and a desire to hit the boards. He finished his three-year career in Boulder as the Buffs' all-time leader in field goal percentage (.574, 750-of-1307), as well as their No. 2 all-time scorer (1,876 points) and rebounder (962 boards). He currently stands third on the field goal percentage and rebounding list.

Wise too, left his mark in the CU record books. Coming to Boulder as a guard in 1987, he managed to suit up for 119 games in a Colorado uniform, the third-most ever. Like Vandiver, he too loved to shoot, and is one of the Buffs' all-time three-point specialists, holding several of CU's three-point shooting marks. Wise also finished his career as the No. 3 scorer (1,727 points) and sits in fourth today. Wise ranks among the top seven in career minutes (2nd), steals (3rd), assists (6th), and free throws made (7th).

Donnie Boyce marked the onset of the 1990s, as the Maywood, Ill., product took CU and the Big Eight by storm. After four incredible seasons in Boulder, Boyce walked away as the school's all-time leading scorer (1,995 points) and led the Buffs to an NIT bid at the end of his senior season, 1994-

95. Boyce, however, never enjoyed postseason play, as he suffered a broken leg that ended his collegiate career during Colorado's game with Oklahoma in the opening round of the 1995 Big Eight Tournament.

Nonetheless, Boyce was drafted by the Atlanta Hawks with the 42nd pick in the second round of the 1995 NBA Draft. With numerous school records in tow, Boyce is remembered as one of the best players in CU history.

Point guard Chauncey Billups continued CU's tradition of great players as he made his mark early in his career. In only his fourth game as a freshman, Billups posted the first triple-double in CU history. His 24-point, 11-assist, 11-rebound game against George Mason was a harbinger of great things to come for the 6-3 product from George Washington High School in Denver.

As a sophomore, Billups would lead Colorado to its first NCAA appearance in 28 years and earn many postseason accolades, including first-team All-Big 12 honors and first-team All-America kudos from Basketball Weekly. In two years, Billups scored over 1,000 points, becoming only the 20th player in CU history to accomplish that feat. Just a few months later, Billups became the Buffs' highest NBA draftee ever, as he was the third overall selection of the first round by the Boston Celtics.

The next great point guard, Jaquay Walls, guided CU toward back-to-back 18 win seasons, both of which brought NIT invitations. A college transfer who made his impact immediately, Walls was named honorable mention All-Big 12 and to the All-Newcomer team in his junior season.

As a senior, he was twice named Big 12 Player of the Week and had a 42-point performance against Iowa State, which became the Big 12 season high, all-time conference record, as well as the top scoring performance by a Buff at the Coors Events Center. His 15 overtime points in that game is also an NCAA record. That spring, he was selected by the Indiana Pacers in the NBA Draft.

Continuing the powerful scoring tradition for Colorado, Jamahl Mosley ended a four-year CU career as the 13th highest scorer ever for the Buffs finishing with 1,171 points. He brought many accolades to himself and the Colorado program including Academic All-Big 12 as a freshman, All-Big 12 and named to the AP's All-Improved team as a junior, and as a senior, received numerous accolades as the Buffs' veteran leader.

CU saw another dominant player emerge on the Boulder campus. Seven-footer David Harrison made his presence felt during the 2001-02 season by being named to the Big 12 All-Freshman team and leading the Buffaloes in scoring (13.9 ppg.). Only one other player in CU history to stand over seven feet was Frank Wilcox in 1955-56. Harrison also rewrote the CU record book in field goal percentage finishing the season with a stellar 63.8 percentage from the field and third overall nationally.

Also during this span, Stephane Pelle emerged as another dominant player in CU basketball. Pelle, a four-year standout since his freshman year was the first CU player in 11 years to average a double-double during 2001-02 campaign. With 12.8 points and 10.8 rebounds per game, Pelle was named to the Big 12 All-Underrated team.

In 2002-03, CU enjoyed one its finest seasons to date, capping it with a NCAA Tournament berth for the first time since 1996-97. With 20 victories, another feat only accomplished twice before by current head coach Ricardo Patton in 1996-97 (22-10) and Sox Walseth in 1968-69 (21-7), the Buffaloes also upset four nationally ranked teams - all at home for the first time ever.

Individually, the Buffaloes received four All-Big 12 honors with Michel Morandais claiming second team along with Stephane Pelle earning conference third-team. Morandais and David Harrison also were named to the Big 12's specialty teams as two of the conference's most-improved players. Harrison also rewrote the entire blocked shot record book with 106 for the season, shattering the previous mark of 73. In addition to a pair of triple-doubles, Harrison became the first Big 12 player to accomplish that feat when he scored 31 points, grabbed 17 rebounds and blocked 10 shots against Stetson; and against rival Nebraska, Harrison stymied the 'Huskers with 20 points, 11 blocks and 10 rebounds in CU's 84-69 home finale win.

COLORADO BASKETBALL HISTORY

Stephane Pelle became the first CU men's basketball player to record 1,000 points and 1,000 rebounds in a career. Pelle finished his four-year career with 1,367 points and 1,054 rebounds. He also became CU's all-time rebounding leader and seventh in scoring.

In 2003-04, CU won 18 games for the fifth time under Patton and earning its third NIT berth in eight years. More impressively, the Buffaloes won 10 conference games, the most since recording 11 back in 1996-97 and earned the number four seed at the Big 12 Tournament in Dallas. David Harrison broke the school record for blocks in a career (225) and would on go to rewrite the blocked shot record despite playing only three years and opting for the NBA.

Other outstanding performances included Blair Wilson breaking the CU record for career 3-pointers made (257). Earlier in the season, Wilson played "in the zone" draining six treys against Iowa State. In that game, Wilson set or tied four school records against the Cyclones making his first six 3-pointers without a miss (CU Record); tying a half record (6), tying for 3s made in a conference half, and tying consecutive 3-pointers made.

Michel Morandais became the 21st player in CU history to score over 1,000 points in his career. He finished seventh overall with 1,428. Blair Wilson reached the 1,000-point plateau and finished with 1,253 points and 14th overall. Harrison rounded out the 1,000-point scorers finishing with 1,317 and 11th place overall.

A near upset at the Big 12 Tournament highlighted a not-so-popular 14-16 record in 2004-05. After upsetting No. 6 seed Texas, 81-69 in the first round of the conference tournament, the No. 11 seed Buffaloes became the first school in the nine-year history of the Big 12 to pull off the improbable upset. CU again played beyond its expectations narrowly upsetting eventual conference champion Oklahoma State, 87-85 in the quarterfinals.

The Buffaloes also saw the arrival of freshman phenom Richard Roby. Roby became the first freshman since Chauncey Billups (1995-96) to lead CU in scoring with 16 points per game and score over double-digits 26 times in 30 games. He also recorded a pair of Phillips 66/Big 12 Rookie of the Week honors and became only the fourth CU player ever to make seven 3-pointers in a game, twice.

The 2005-06 Buffaloes won 20 games in a season for the 11th time in their history en route to the National Invitational Tournament. The Buffs also won 14 home games tying the 2002-03 season for most wins in Boulder and rewrote the school's 3-point record for made (240) and attempts (701). Richard Roby became the first CU player since 2003-04 and only the fourth player since 1996-97 to be named All-Big 12 first team. CU also reached the national stage by being ranked in back-to-back ESPN/USA Today Coaches' Polls, a school first since the 1996-97 season.

RUSSELL "SOX" WALSETH

Legendary CU Basketball Coach Was One Of School's Most Popular Figures

Russell "Sox" Walseth, the legendary University of Colorado basketball coach who was likely the first and one of only a few to have coached both the men's and women's basketball teams at the same NCAA school, passed away on Wednesday, Jan. 28, 2004. He was 77.

A player, coach and administrator, his time at CU spanned 38 years, starting as an athlete in the 1940s when he lettered a combined six times in both basketball and baseball.

Taking over the reins of the men's program for the 1956-57 season, Walseth proceeded to coach the next 20 Buffalo teams. The winningest coach in CU men's basketball history with a 261-245 record, the Buffs won three Big Eight titles under his direction, in 1961-62, 1962-63 and 1968-69. He was the Big Eight Conference coach of the year on five occasions, and his most prominent players included Ken Charlton, Jim Davis, Cliff Meely, Scott Wedman and Dave Logan.

All three of his Big Eight champion teams represented the conference in the NCAA regional tournaments (in those days, only one school could advance from a conference). Eventual NCAA champion Cincinnati eliminated the Buffs in the first two appearances, while his third tourney team may have represented his best coaching job in his tenure as he piloted a sophomore-dominated team to the league title and an NCAA berth.

He retired from coaching for the first time in the spring of 1976 and remained on in an administrative position with the athletic department. But four years later (1980), and CU hit with budget woes, then athletic director Eddie Crowder asked him if he would come out of retirement to help the program to which he had devoted much of his adult life. Sox answered that call and would coach the CU women's team between 1980-83, then known as the "Lady Buffs," compiling an impressive 77-21 record. That mark included an incredible 43-0 record at home, and once again, he earned coach of the year accolades.

The basketball floor at the Coors Events/Conference Center is named after him. In 1998, he was inducted into the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame, and four years later in 2002, he was a member of the fourth class inducted into the University of Colorado Athletic Hall of Fame.

Sox (the origin of that nickname was always unknown to him, but he had it since childhood) was born April 6, 1926 in Aberdeen, S.D. He was an all-state performer in basketball at Pierre High School, where he graduated in 1944.

He spent two years in the Navy's V-5 and V-12 programs during which he began college, attending Carroll College in Helena, Mont. The Navy moved him to Colorado in the fall of 1945 and he was a regular on the basketball team in his first year at CU while still in the Navy program.

After his discharge, he stayed on at Colorado, playing guard with the reputation as a brilliant floor leader during the 1946-47 and 1947-48 seasons. He lettered three years as a shortstop for

- CU's all-time leader in victories with 261
- Likely the first and only a few to coach both the men's and women's basketball teams at the same school
- CU won three Big Eight titles under his direction
- Coached 20 different CU teams from 1957-1976
- Coached the CU women from 1980-83 and was an impressive 77-21, including 43-0 at home
- Coors Events Center basketball floor was named after him in 1996
- 1998 inductee of the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame
- 2002 Inductee of the CU Athletic Hall of Fame

coach Frank Prentup on the baseball team, and would also try his hand in the minor leagues, spending two seasons with Victoria (B.C.), a member of the B League.

Perhaps his greatest game as a collegian occurred during his first year at Colorado when the Buffaloes made an early season tour that took them to New York's Madison Square Garden. Accounts at the time referred to his performance as, "Cool and crafty beyond his years, Walseth was unruffled at playing for the first time in the nation's top arena against one of the country's top teams, NYU." Though CU lost 66-52, Walseth led all scorers in the game with 20 points.

After his graduation from CU in the spring of 1948, he remained with the school as head freshman basketball coach while he worked toward a Master's degree in Education. He spent five seasons in this capacity, three years under his college coach, Forrest B. "Frosty" Cox, and two with H.B. "Bebe" Lee.

With that experience along with his Master's from Colorado, he left Boulder to become head basketball coach at Arvin High School in Bakersfield, Calif., in 1954. After one year there, he was named head coach at South Dakota State College and quickly reshaped that school's cage fortunes. In his first year there (1954-55), his team forged a 14-11 mark, but the following year the Jackrabbits fashioned a 17-7 record in winning the North Central Conference crown and went on to play in the NAIA national tournament.

Walseth had the combined outstanding qualities of two fine coaches in Cox and Lee, and those along with his excellent background combined with a solid blend of youth and fire made him the easy choice to succeed Lee as CU's coach prior to the 1956-57 season.

Walseth is the fifth CU icon to pass away since the turn of the century, as the Buffalo family also lost long-time athletic staff members Fred Casotti (2001) and Les Fowler and Dan Stavely (both in 2003) and the school's first All-American and former U.S. Supreme Court Justice Byron "Whizzer" White (in 2002).

He was preceded in death by his first wife of more than 40 years, the former Eleanor "Ellie" Hahn, and is survived by his current wife, Joan, sons Joe and Nick, daughter Cynthia and four grandchildren.

March 10, 1999—Colorado beats Pepperdine, 65-61 in the first round of the National Invitation tournament. It marks the second time in three full years as head coach Richard Patton has led the Buffs to the postseason.

March 16, 2000—Colorado hosts Southern Illinois in an opening round NIT game. It marks CU's third post-season berth in four years.

Jan. 22, 2001—Jamahl Mosley reaches the 1,000 point plateau. He'll finish the season 13th all-time with 1,171 points. That same night, a 5th ranked Kansas team will help draw an Events Center attendance record of 11,363.

COLORADO TIMELINE

March 8, 2001—Colorado finishes their season 15-15, the first time in 35 years the Buffs have had three consecutive .500 seasons or better.

Nov. 19, 2001—Colorado wins its 1,000 game in its history defeating Regis, 77-56 at the Coors Events/Conference Center. The Buffs are the 10th Big 12 school to reach the 1,000 win plateau.

Jan. 16, 2002—Head Coach Ricardo Patton earns his 100th career coaching victory with an exciting last second home win over Iowa State, 63-61. Stephane Pelle converted a 10-foot fade away with 2.9 seconds remaining.

March 6, 2002—Stephane Pelle earns his first Big 12 post-season honor earning a third-team selection by the conference coaches.

Nov. 24, 2002—Stephane Pelle becomes the 20th player in CU history to score 1,000 points in his career with 15 points in the Buffaloes 107-74 victory over Stetson. Pelle converted lay up at 10:26 of the second half. David Harrison becomes the first CU player since 1995 to record a triple-double. Harrison scored 31 points, grabbed 17 rebounds and blocked 10 shots against the Hatters.

Jan. 22, 2003—For the first time since Feb. 20, 1991, CU defeated Kansas, 60-59 at the Events Center. The victory over the Jayhawks snapped a 27-game losing streak to its conference nemesis and broke KU's 23-game Big 12 winning streak. Stephane Pelle's 10-footer with 25 seconds remaining was the difference.

Feb. 4, 2003—Michel Morandais scored 24 points with seven assists, three steals and was 3-of-3 from the 3-point arc helping CU upset No. 3 Texas, 93-80. The Buffs went on a 13-0 run to end the game and its win was the biggest victory over a ranked team since 1991-92 when CU defeated No. 2 Oklahoma State.

Feb. 15, 2003—Stephane Pelle breaks Cliff Meely's (1968-71) school record of 971 rebounds with 12 of his own to become CU's all-time leading rebounder with 974 with nine games remaining to play.

Feb. 22, 2003—Michel Morandais notched his first career double-double with 17 points and 10 assists and Blair Wilson made 6 3-pointers for a game-high 26 points leading CU to an 89-68 rout of Missouri in Boulder. It was CU's third win over nationally-ranked team this season.

Feb. 25, 2003—Stephane Pelle became the first CU men's basketball player to record 1,000 rebounds in a career with eight boards at Iowa State. Pelle would finish his four-year career with 1,367 points and 1,054 rebounds, the first men's player to record both feats.

March 5, 2003—For the first time ever, CU defeated four nationally ranked teams in the same season upsetting Oklahoma State, 68-56 in Boulder. David Harrison scored 14 points with 16 rebounds and Stephane Pelle scored 14 with 11 rebounds.

March 8, 2003—David Harrison became the first Buffs player to register two triple-doubles in a season and career. Harrison stymied Nebraska with 20 points, 11 blocks and 10 rebounds in CU's 84-69 home finale win.

March 13, 2003—James "Mookie" Wright made the most dramatic last-second shot in recent memory hitting an 18-footer as time expired leading CU to an incredible 77-76 victory over Kansas State in the first round of the Big 12 Tournament. CU was given its last opportunity when Pervis Pasco traveled with the ball in celebration giving the Buffs possession with 1.8 second left.

March 21, 2003—Under the tutelage of head coach Ricardo Patton, the Buffs embarked of their second trip to the NCAA Tournament since the 1996-97 season. CU, seeded 10th in the south region, lost to eventual elite eight Michigan State, 79-64.

Stephane Pelle stands with Cliff Meely after CU's 98-83 home victory over Texas A&M on Feb. 15, 2003. Pelle broke Meely's rebounding mark of 971 with 12 boards against the Aggies. Pelle finished his four-year career with 1,054.

Nov. 26, 2003—Michel Morandais becomes the 21st player in CU history to score over 1,000 points in his career. He will finish seventh overall (1,428). Later in the season, Blair Wilson reached the 1,000-point barrier on Dec. 31 against Richmond and finished with 1,253 and 14th overall. David Harrison scored his 1,000-point against Kansas (Jan. 5) to finish with 1,317 (11th).

Dec. 23, 2003—David Harrison broke the CU record for blocks in a career with three against Utah. Harrison bettered Ted Allen's eight-year mark of 161. Harrison would go on to block 225 shots and after only three years in a CU uniform would hold every blocked shot record category.

Jan. 17, 2004—Blair Wilson broke the CU record for career 3-pointers made with six against Iowa State. In that game, Wilson set or tied four school records against the Cyclones making his first six 3-pointers without a miss (CU Record); tying a half record (6), tying for 3s made in a conference half, and tying consecutive 3-pointers made.

Feb. 7, 2004—Blair Wilson tied his personal best with seven 3-pointers at home against Kansas State. Ironically, it's the second time in his career he has netted seven treys against the Wildcats (Jan. 1, 2002). Wilson also became one of three players to make seven 3-pointers in a game, twice.

March 6, 2004—The Buffs won 10 Big 12 Conference games the most since recording 11 back in 1996-97 and earned the number four seed at the conference tournament in Dallas.

March 17, 2004—Colorado earned its third NIT berth during Coach Patton's eight years as head coach. Despite David Harrison's 26 points and 12 rebounds, host Oregon was led by Luke Jackson's 40 points in the Ducks, 77-72 victory at Eugene.

Dec. 21, 2004—Head Coach Ricardo Patton becomes the second winningest coach at CU getting his 148th career win in the Buffs 74-58 victory over Radford. Patton passes Forrest B. Cox, who coached CU from 1936-50.

Dec. 28, 2004—Head Coach Ricardo Patton reaches the 150-win plateau as the Buffs defeat Gardner-Webb, 97-88 at the Coors Events Center.

Jan. 22, 2005—Andy Osborn made a 3-pointer with 15.9 seconds remaining lifting CU to a 54-52 overtime win at Iowa State. It's the first win for the Buffaloes in Ames since Feb. 19, 1991, ending a streak of 13 consecutive losses.

March 10, 2005—Colorado upset No. 6 Texas, 81-69 in the first round of the Big 12 Tournament becoming the first No. 11 seed to defeat a sixth seed in the nine-year history of the tournament.

Jan. 14 & 21, 2006—CU won at Oklahoma State for the first time at Gallagher-Iba Arena since Jan. 12, 1980 (20 games); and at Missouri since the 1996-97 season and only the second time winning at Columbia since Jan. 15, 1973 (a span of 32 games).

Jan. 28, 2006—The Buffs started Big 12 play with a 5-2 record, a first since 1996-97. The 5-2 start is the 14th time CU started 5-2 or better in league play in 59 years.

Feb. 6, 2006—CU was nationally ranked for the first time since the 1996-97 season (USA Today). They were ranked as the No. 25th team in the USA Today/Coaches' Poll for two straight weeks (Jan. 30-Feb. 5, Feb. 6-12).

Feb. 25, 2006—Head Coach Ricardo Patton recorded his 175 career victory when CU defeated Missouri, 78-60.

Mar. 15, 2006—CU earned their eighth NIT berth in school history and their 14 wins at home ties the 2002-03 season for home wins.

Blair Wilson broke the 3-point school record held by Stevie Wise (214, 1987-91) with six treys in CU's 88-70 victory over Iowa State on Jan. 17, 2004. Overall, Wilson holds seven CU records and shares three others.

2002-03 Team

HISTORY

COLORADO'S ALL-AMERICA SELECTIONS

Jack Harvey 1939 & 1940

In his back-to-back All-America campaigns, Jack Harvey led the Buffs to two conference championships and a trip to the NCAA Tourney in his senior season. During those two years, CU posted an amazing 31-8 mark and received recognition as the No. 1 team in the land.

Known for his tough defense, Harvey proved to be key in numerous Buff victories. He was also an outstanding ball handler for a big man and was a key component in the CU fast break. A solid All-Conference performer, Harvey is the only CU cager to be selected twice as an All-American.

Jim Willcoxon 1939

Known for his defense, Jim Willcoxon continued Coach Frosty Cox's tradition of talented cagers. Willcoxon helped anchor the 1937-38 and 1938-39 Big Seven Championship teams with tough play on the defensive end. He also led the Buffs to national prominence with strong showings on East Coast road trips.

His hard-nosed style of play earned him both All-Big Seven and All-America honors as a senior.

Robert Doll 1942

Bob Doll was the big-play man for coach Frosty Cox's 1941-42 Big Seven Championship squad. Doll, along with fellow All-American Leason McCloud, helped lead CU to a 16-2 record and the NCAA Western Tournament finals as a senior.

Known as an outstanding rebounder, Doll controlled the paint in many CU wins. He was also renowned for his shooting prowess, finishing second to McCloud in scoring.

A unanimous All-Big Seven selection, Doll was selected to All-America teams by Look, Pic and Time magazines. He was also tabbed as MVP of New York's Metropolitan Tournament as a sophomore and was a huge factor in CU's three conference titles in a four-year span. After graduation, Doll went on to play for the Boston Celtics.

Leason McCloud 1942

The leading scorer for the 1942 Big Seven Champion Buffs, Leason McCloud was Coach Frosty Cox's "go-to guy." Known for his silky-smooth shot, McCloud was also a great passer and rebounder.

McCloud was key in CU's NCAA Western Tournament semifinal win over Kansas, pacing the Buffs with 19 points. His play caught the attention of national media and he joined fellow Buff Bob Doll on the Look, Pic and Time magazines' All-America squads and was a unanimous All-Big Seven selection.

Burdette Haldorson 1955

Burdette Haldorson was virtually unstoppable in 1955. Prior to the season, Coach H.B. Lee said, "We'll be just as good as Haldorson. We need the big man to play well for us." And play well he did, leading CU to a conference championship and a third-place finish in the National Collegiate Tournament. The big man led the Big Seven in scoring at 23.9 ppg and set what still stands as a CU record with an amazing 346 boards on the year. For his efforts, the Amateur Athletic Union tabbed Haldorson a first-team All-American.

Haldorson's talents were nationally recognized, as the stand-out was selected to the 1956 & 1960 U.S. Olympic teams. Upon graduation, Haldorson turned down a $7,000 contract with the NBA's St. Louis franchise. He did continue playing, however, and led amateur powerhouse Phillips 66 to a National Industrial Basketball League title.

Haldorson joined Cliff Meely as the only two Buffs to have their jerseys retired in 1994, and was named to the CU Hall of Fame in 1999.

Ken Charlton 1963

Ranking eighth on CU's all-time scoring charts, Ken Charlton battled through a history of knee problems to lead Colorado to two Big Eight titles and in 1963, Charlton was named an All-American by the United States Basketball Writer's Association and Look magazine.

Along with his penchant for scoring, Charlton was also a force inside, ranking in the top 10 on the CU rebounding charts with 671 career caroms. He also succeeded in the classroom and was named an Academic All-American in 1963 as well.

Buff Coach Sox Walseth said of Charlton's play, "On a leg and a half, he's better than anyone else in the Big Eight." Charlton was elected to the inaugural class of the CU Hall of Fame in 1998.

Cliff Meely 1971

In 1971, Cliff Meely was a scoring machine. He tallied a CU-record 729 points and set a Big Eight record with 427 points in conference. Coach Sox Walseth said of Meely, "He is the most complete player I have ever coached."

Known for his quickness and agility, Meely could play any position on the floor. He was named to several All-America teams as a junior and senior and played in numerous all-star games after graduation.

Meely went on to play in over 300 games in the NBA for the Houston Rockets and the Los Angeles Lakers.

Chauncey Billups 1997

One of CU's top perimeter threats in hoops history, Chauncey Billups graced the CU campus for two seasons before departing for the NBA. As a sophomore in 1997, Billups was named a first-team All-American by Basketball News, becoming the eighth All-American in Colorado history.

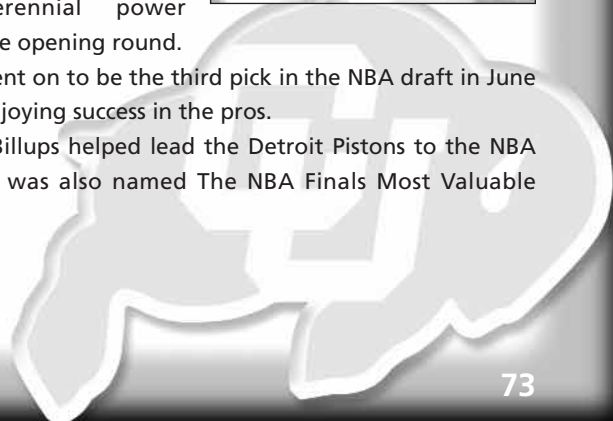

Known for his playmaking skills and ability to penetrate, Billups also led the Buffs to their first NCAA Tournament in over two decades, where CU topped perennial power Indiana in the opening round.

Billups went on to be the third pick in the NBA draft in June and is still enjoying success in the pros.

In 2004, Billups helped lead the Detroit Pistons to the NBA title. Billups was also named The NBA Finals Most Valuable Player.

ALL-TIME COLORADO ROSTER

Throughout the years, various standards have been used to determine who has been awarded letters at CU (as well as at every school in the nation, as all set their own criteria). Jersey numbers, heights and weights are generally those listed in CU publications (or other sources) in the player's final letter-winning year. Hometowns are usually the place from which the player came to CU, followed by the high school and any previous institution, be it a junior or senior college. The following information prior to 1940 is limited at best and thus some holes do exist. If you have additional information on yourself or someone on this list, please call the Sports Information Office at 303/492-5626.

BUFFS IN THE NBA

Chauncey Billups

Boston Celtics, 1997-98 • Toronto Raptors, 1997-98 • Denver Nuggets, 1998-2000
Minnesota Timberwolves 2000-01 • Detroit Pistons 2002-2006

One of the most talented players in Colorado basketball history, Billups helped transform the Buffaloes into an NCAA tournament contender in the two years he played at CU. His hard work, dedication and exceptional basketball skills not only drew the attention of college basketball aficionados, but of professional teams as well. Billups was the No. 3 overall selection of the first round of the NBA Draft in 1997 by the Boston Celtics. As a captain of the Detroit Pistons, Billups led the team to the NBA championship in 2004 earning the NBA Finals Most Valuable Player award by averaging 21 points and 5.2 assists in the five games. During the 2005 season, Billups helped the Pistons advance to another appearance to the NBA Finals. He averaged 18.7 points, 6.5 assists, and 4.3 rebounds per game during the 2005 playoffs. The Pistons fell to San Antonio in seven games.

Harrison was a 2004 All-Big 12 Conference Coaches first team pick averaging 17.1 points, 8.8 rebounds and 2.9 blocks per game as a junior. He was named second team All-Big 12 by the Associated Press and was a member of the Big 12 All-Defensive team.

A 7-foot center, Harrison was named to the 2003-04 preseason Wooden Award and Naismith Award lists. He was fourth nationally in field-goal percentage and 12th in blocked shots. Harrison also helped CU to a No. 6 team ranking in blocks this past season (6.0 bpg).

Over his three-year CU career, Harrison averaged 15 points, 8.0 rebounds and 2.6 blocks per game and is the school's all-time leader in career field-goal percentage at .602 (489x813). Harrison also holds all of CU's blocked shot records including single-game (11 vs. Nebraska on March 8, 2003), single-season (106, 2002-03) and career (225, 2000-04).

Harrison is the 30th CU player selected in the NBA Draft and the first since Jaquay Walls was picked by the Pacers in the second round (56th overall) in 2000.

BUFFS IN THE PROS

Donnie Boyce

Atlanta Hawks, 1995 • San Antonio Spurs, 1996-97

Colorado's all-time leading scorer, Donnie Boyce completed his collegiate career in 1994-95 with 1,995 career points. However, Boyce's career ended prematurely when he broke his leg during the first half of CU's 1995 Big Eight Tournament game against Oklahoma. During his career in Boulder, Boyce was named All-Conference three times, twice on the league's first team. Boyce also held school records for games started (107), field goals attempted (1,648), free throws made (480) and free throws attempted (721).

In four consecutive seasons (1991-95), Boyce led the Buffaloes in scoring, and led the Big Eight in scoring (league games only) as a junior (26.8 ppg). A gifted player on all levels, Boyce will be remembered as one of the greatest players in CU and Big Eight history.

Matt Bullard

Houston Rockets, 1990-1994, 1996-98 • Atlanta Hawks, 1995-96

As a freshman, Bullard was named to All-Freshman team and was honorable mention All-Big Eight. The next year he led the team in both scoring (16.6 ppg) and rebounding (9.3). He finished the 1986 season ranked 18th in the country in field goal percentage.

Bullard joined the Rockets as a free agent in 1990, and was a member of Houston's 1994 NBA Championship team. He is the third-leading three-point shooter in franchise history.

Jim Creighton

Atlanta Hawks, 1975-76

After playing in the shadows of Cliff Meely for two years, Creighton came into his own during his junior and senior seasons. He quickly became a stalwart performer for the Buffs. Not big for a center (6-7, 190), Creighton played much bigger with his great jumping ability. Following an excellent senior season, he was named to the NCAA's District V All-Star squad.

Creighton enjoyed a one-year stint with the Atlanta Hawks. Used primarily for his defensive ability, he played in 32 games, averaging one point and 1.4 boards per game.

Jim Davis

Houston Rockets, 1972

Detroit Pistons, 1972-75

Davis guided Colorado to two Big Eight championships during a brilliant three-year career. During that time, Davis emerged as one of the school's all-time top rebounders (863 boards) and scorers (1,110 points). In addition to being a fine rebounder and scorer, Davis was also known for his defensive skills.

As a professional ball player, Davis played for three different clubs, St. Louis/Atlanta, Houston and Detroit. His most successful seasons were spent with St. Louis/Atlanta as he averaged 7.9 points per game and totaled 1,484 career boards.

Robert Doll

Boston Celtics, 1948-50

One of the key players for Coach Forrest "Frosty" Cox's 1941-42 Big Seven championship squad, "Ichabod" Doll was known for his aggressive defense as he was named a unanimous first-team All-Conference player following his senior season. That same year, he also garnered All-America honors in Look, Pic and Time magazines.

Doll played in 94 games for the NBA's Boston Celtics over a span of two seasons. He held down a 7.3 point-per-game average during that span.

Pat Frink

Cincinnati Royals, 1968-69

Known as an excellent shooter, Frink finished his career at Colorado as the second leading scorer in Buff basketball history at that time (1,288 points). He accomplished that feat even though he missed the 1966 season due to a knee injury. Frink was also chosen as a member of the second-team academic All-America squad in 1968.

After graduation, Frink went on to play professionally with the Cincinnati Royals for one season. While a member of the ABA team, he played in 48 games and averaged 2.6 points per game.

Chuck Gardner

Denver Rockets, 1967-68

Chuck Gardner led the Buffs his senior year in scoring (20.2 ppg), rebounding (9.8 rpg), field goal percentage (.524) and free throw percentage (.650). A two-time All-Big Eight selection, Gardner was also chosen as a scholastic All-American his senior season. His excellent touch around the basket and dangerous hook shot enabled him to be an outstanding inside scorer.

Although he only played one year professionally, he did record some notable marks with the ABA's Denver Rockets. In 42 games, he averaged 4.7 points and 3.2 boards per game.

BUFFS IN THE PROS

Jay Humphries

Phoenix Suns, 1984-88 • Milwaukee Bucks, 1988-92
Utah Jazz, 1992-1995

Humphries had an outstanding career at CU, as he was elected twice for both All-America and All-Conference honors. Humphries is the current all-time leader in both steals (309) and assists (586), evidence of both his great quickness and ball-handling abilities.

Humphries finished his career with the Utah Jazz, after spending four seasons with Phoenix and four with Milwaukee. He reached two milestones in 1992-93, tallying his 4,000th assist and 8,000th point. He averaged a career-high 15.3 points per game in 1989-90, and never averaged under 7.5 ppg. Humphries joined the Jazz on draft day '92, when he was traded from Milwaukee to Utah.

Cliff Meely scored over 2,500 points in his NBA career with the Houston Rockets and L.A. Lakers

Cliff Meely

Houston Rockets, 1971-76 • Los Angeles Lakers, 1976

One of two players in Colorado basketball history to have his jersey number retired (20), Cliff Meely was named an All-American following the 1970-71 season. Meely was truly a graceful performer who could shoot from anywhere on the court. He finished his career at CU possessing eight Big Eight Conference marks and 16 school records, including CU's all-time scoring record (1,940 points, 24.3 ppg). Meely transferred to CU as a junior college All-American from Northeastern JC. While there, he scored 40 or more points on five separate occasions.

Meely played in more than 300 professional games over six seasons with the NBA's Houston Rockets and Los Angeles Lakers. He averaged 8.7 points and 5.6 boards per game throughout his career with the Rockets, only playing in 20 games with the Lakers at the end of the 1975-76 season.

Atlanta Hawks, 1992-93 • Los Angeles Clippers, 1992-93
Milwaukee Bucks, 1992-93

Stivrins led Colorado in rebounding both years he was a Buff, and finished sixth in the country in 1985. He finished his collegiate career at CU with averages of 13.9 points and 10.4 rebounds per game.

His first year in the NBA was spent with the Seattle SuperSonics, in 1985-86. Following that he played in both the CBA and the Italian League before returning to the NBA ranks in 1992-93. That season, he had stints with four different teams.

Scott Wedman

Kansas City Kings, 1975-81 • Cleveland Cavaliers, 1981-82
Boston Celtics, 1982-87

Wedman provided the backbone for CU basketball in the early '70s. Head Coach Sox Walseth called Wedman "one of the best we've ever had here." With his great touch, he was smooth as silk with the ball, and was also a big factor on the boards. Wedman's outstanding play earned him All-Big Eight honors in both his junior and senior seasons.

Wedman began his professional career with the NBA's Kansas City franchise, where he played for six seasons. While there, he averaged 17.4 points per game and 6.0 rebounds in 466 games. He was traded to Cleveland for the '81-82 season and then was sent to Boston where he averaged 5.6 points per game in 301 contests.

Denver Nuggets, 1971-72, 1975-76 (ABA); 1976-77 (NBA)
Kentucky Colonels, 1972-75* • Buffalo Braves, 1977-78

A floor leader, Williams was known for his precision passing, slashing drives to the basket and his tenacious defense. He possessed exceptional quickness and speed. Following a serious knee injury his junior year, he rebounded his final campaign to have an excellent season.

Williams began his professional basketball career with Denver. He played in 163 games with the Nuggets franchise during two different stints in both the ABA and NBA, and had a scoring average of 9.8 points per game. He also played for three years with the ABA's Kentucky Colonels and finished his career with the Buffalo Braves.

BUZZER BEATERS

The following is a list of Colorado's all-time wins in the final minutes of the game since the 1996-97 season, based upon available play-by-play on file in the CU Sports Information Office. Both regulation and overtime buzzer beaters are included.

Jan. 22, 2005 Ames, Iowa 15.9 seconds W, 54-52 (ot)
Andy Osborn made a 3-pointer with 15.9 seconds remaining in overtime giving CU the lead and a Buffs win in Ames for the first time since Feb. 19, 1991, ending a streak of 13 straight losses.

Feb. 7, 2004 Boulder 3.6 seconds W, 82-81
Jayson Obazuaye made his only basket of the game with a driving layup with 3.6 seconds left, lifting CU to an 82-81 victory. Obazuaye took an inbounds pass and dribbled down court, putting up the clincher. Kansas State's Tim Ellis missed a desperation shot at the buzzer.

Mar. 13, 2003 Kansas State (Dallas) :00 W, 77-76
After a traveling violation on Kansas State with :1.6, James Wright banked in a 21-foot buzzer beater to give CU a first round victory in the Big 12 Conference Tournament.

Jan. 22, 2003 Kansas (Boulder) :25 W, 60-59
Stephane Pelle makes a 10-foot jumper with :25 remaining for the winning points in a 60-59 upset, ending No. 6 Kansas' 23-game Big 12 Conference winning streak. This was CU's first victory over Kansas since 1991.

Dec. 29, 2002 Loyola-Chicago (Charlotte) :26 W, 76-72
James Wright goes two-for-two from the free throw line with :26 remaining to put CU up 73-68. The Buffs held off Loyola by connecting on five-of-six free throws down the stretch.

Dec. 28, 2002 Charlotte (Charlotte) :10 W, 76-74
After Charlotte erased a 14-point deficit and tied the game at 74-74, James Wright made two free throws with :10 left as the Buffaloes edged Charlotte 76-74 in the Pepsi Classic.

Jan. 16, 2002 Iowa State (Boulder) :2.9 W, 63-61
Stephane Pelle hits a 10-foot floater from the right baseline to give CU its first Big 12 win of the season, also giving coach Ricardo Patton's 100th career victory.

Feb. 3, 2001 Nebraska (Lincoln) :13 W, 60-57
Stephane Pelle's lay-up with :13 left sealing the victory for CU ending a furious Nebraska comeback.

Dec. 30, 2000 Wis.-Milwaukee (Milwaukee) :54 (ot) W, 74-71
With :54 remaining in overtime, Jamahl Mosley hit a jumper to put the Buffs up 73-68. Mosley then sealed the game by making a free throw with :06 remaining.

Feb. 5, 2000 Kansas State (Manhattan) :27 W, 67-63
Jaquay Walls made his second of two free throws with :27 remaining to give the Buffs a 64-58 lead. Walls hit all eight of his free throws, which came in the final 4:34.

Feb. 10, 1999 Oklahoma State (Boulder) 1:41 W, 83-80
With more than seven minutes remaining, the Buffs overcame a 15-point deficit behind guard Jaquay Walls game-high 34 points. Walls hit two free throws with 1:41 remaining to give CU its first lead of the game – one the Buffs would never relinquish.

Dec. 2, 1998 Virginia Commonwealth (Boulder) :04 W, 78-76
Jaquay Walls went four-of-six from the free throw line in the final minute with his last point coming with four seconds remaining. VCU missed an uncontested lay-up as time expired.

Feb. 11, 1998 Texas Tech (Boulder) 2:30 W, 91-80 (2ot)
After being tied 75-75 at the end of the first overtime, Charlie Melvin follows up a Kenny Price three-pointer with a four-footer to give the Buffs a 82-75 lead with 2:30 remaining in the second overtime. This was the first double-overtime game in Boulder since Jan. 18, 1984, when Oklahoma claimed a 100-89 victory.

Jan. 28, 1998 Texas A&M (College Station) :06 W, 68-67
After trailing by 17 points at halftime, senior guard Marlon Hughes hits the game-winner with a 10-foot, pull-up jumper in the lane with :06 left.

Jan. 17, 1998 Missouri (Boulder) :16 W, 81-78
Ronnie DeGray sinks a crucial four-foot hook shot with :16 remaining for the game's final score. Missouri missed a potential game tying 3-point attempt with three seconds left, a shot that went in and out.

Nov. 16, 1997 Southeast Missouri (Boulder) 2:55 W, 62-59
Ronnie DeGray knocks down a pair of free throws to seal the game for the Buffs. He earlier made a six-footer from the right baseline to tie the game at 58-58.

Jan. 11, 1997 Texas Tech (Lubbock) :0.5 W, 80-78
Chauncey Billups sinks an eight-foot jumper with :0.5 showing on the clock to lift Colorado to an 80-78 victory over Texas Tech in the sold out Lubbock Municipal Coliseum, snapping the nation's longest home court winning streak (35 games).

Nov. 29, 1996 Auburn (Hawaii) :00 W, 78-72 (ot)
Ronnie DeGray hits a jumper at the end of regulation to tie the score, 62-62, and force overtime. The Buffaloes then outscored Auburn in overtime with a series of made free throws.

Nov. 24, 1996 Drake (Boulder) 1:24 W, 82-80 (ot)
Howard Frier feeds Ronnie DeGray on an eight-footer from the right to give the Buffs an 81-80 lead.

James "Mookie" Wright banked in a 3-pointer at the buzzer for an exciting 77-76 victory over Kansas State, March 13, 2003 at the Big 12 Basketball Championships in Dallas.

^ Big 12 Tournament

David Harrison performed a Colorado and Big 12 Conference first, collecting two triple-doubles during the 2002-03 season.

Chauncey Billups was the first CU player to record a triple-double in a single game. He was one of six Big 8 Conference players to accomplish the feat.

Colorado has achieved one other triple-double in its history when Chauncey Billups performed a 24-point, 11-assist, 11-rebound effort against George Mason on Dec. 2, 1995. The Buffs won 132-117 at home in overtime in the now-defunct Big 8 Conference.
